

FREEDMEN'S MEETINGS.

The Colored Citizens of Charleston and Savannah in Council—Platform of Principles—No Distinction on Account of Color for Public Officers and Jurymen, &c.

THE CHARLESTON MEETING. CHARLESTON, March 21.—A mass meeting of the loyal people of this city, irrespective of color, was held at Military Hall to-night.

The Chairman stated the object of the meeting to be to hear the report of the Committee of Thirteen appointed to draft a platform for the organization of a Union Republican party.

Whereas, the founders of this republic based the same upon the self-evident truths that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; and whereas, it is set forth in the preamble of the Federal Constitution of 1787 that it is the duty of the States to maintain the Union...

First, That we give our cordial and entire sanction to the action of Congress for the restoration of the Union, and to the wise and just principles of the Reconstruction bill...

Second, That in order to make the labor of all our loyal fellow-citizens more effectual for carrying out the purposes of the Reconstruction of law and order in our State, as well as for the peace and prosperity of our entire country, we do form an association to be known as the Union Republican party of South Carolina...

Third, That we pledge our sacred honor, our fortunes, and the lives of our country, to preserve her institutions, and especially to aid her in keeping inviolate the national faith, which has been sacredly pledged to the payment of the national debt...

Fourth, That the nation owes to the brave men, white and colored, of our army and navy a debt of lasting gratitude for their heroic services in defense of the Union...

Fifth, That as republican institutions cannot be preserved unless intelligence is generally diffused among all classes of our people, our Legislature a uniform system of common schools, which shall be open to all, without distinction of race, color, or previous condition...

ing. They would soon be called to go to the ballot box to choose their representatives in Congress. This fact is undeniable, and their future welfare depended upon a judicious selection of representatives. He exhorted them to fear not, as God was on their side. Their success depended upon their intellect and good right arm. Must they be educated in order to vote? God deals justice to all, irrespective of race, color, or intelligence. He had prayed fervently for suffrage, and now, thank God, it has come.

Rev. T. G. Campbell, (colored) was the next speaker, who stated that words were inadequate to express the desires of his heart—his soul was filled with joy. To-day his people stand upon the same footing as six months ago. Congress has declared its intention to the world to protect all races, irrespective of color. (Applause.) A field too vast for contemplation was now open to them. To succeed, he counseled love and respect to God and mankind, and a return of good for evil. To secure material prosperity they must be judicious in their selection of representatives to the convention, as only the best qualified, regardless of color, should be chosen.

Mr. A. W. Stone was next introduced, and he began by stating that Congress had declared them citizens and possessed of the same rights as he was; they must, however, prove themselves worthy of this great liberty; they had now the right to elect their own representatives to Congress. They must be calm and slow in acting, and not presume on their rights. Much was to be learned, for the ignorance of which they were not to be blamed. Celebration was proposed as a means of preventing fraud. Complaints had reached him that justice had not been done the colored people in the courts. It was not the fault of the courts that they lose their rights, but because they neglected to employ counsel. He did not allude to the subject because he was a lawyer. Judicial officers were to give them justice, but they must make allowance for the prejudices of the people. Be patient, and you will soon be upon the jury. You must educate yourselves, build churches, save your money, economize your time, and try to improve yourself, so that you can hurl back the lie to those who say you are unworthy of freedom.

Fallant was then introduced, who stated that he was yesterday requested to address the meeting, and had not much time for preparation, though he held a written speech in his hand, from which he read in the present of which he was so happy to be present. He counseled his hearers to beware of demagogues who would excite them against Northerners. Prove your love worthy of your future glorious career, and worthy the confidence of your fellow-citizens. (Cheers.)

Dr. Cliff followed, and emphatically denied any connection with the profession of a doctor or politician. The main part of his address was occupied in praising the courage and heroism of the colored people of the Union army till the close of the war, and the after changes produced by Congressional legislation. He alluded with evident satisfaction to the recent action of the Governors of New York, who had elected colored men to the office of Governor. He compared the South to Uncle Sam's legs, in which he was diseased. The Sherman bill he styled a "reconstruction plaster," and the military commanders were the "doctors" who were to hold their money in the Freedmen's Bank.

He was followed in his address by several colored men, the ninth of whose arguments was nearly the same as that of the first speaker, and ended, the following resolutions were adopted, when the assemblage quietly dispersed.

Whereas, The Congress of the United States has recently passed an act called the "Sherman Military Bill," which has elected colored men to the office of Governor, and has elected colored men to the office of Governor, and has elected colored men to the office of Governor...

Resolved, That we will accept the situation, and do all in our power to aid in the reconstruction of the country in the form and manner prescribed by Congress. Resolved, That while loyal men and no others shall receive our support for public offices of any kind, we will support, as far as possible, to banish from the minds and hearts of the people all prejudices and animosities engendered by the late unhappy war, to the end that we may live in peace and harmony as one people, and in the enjoyment of every section of our common country. Resolved, That it is the duty of the colored people to receive instruction in the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, and to be prepared to discharge them as good citizens.

NEW YORK REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE.

Opposition to Universal Suffrage—Ten to Eight against Allowing Negroes to Vote for Members of the State Constitutional Convention—Spice, Debate, Etc.

ALBANY, March 21.—At the meeting of the Republican State Central Committee to-day, a lively discussion and no little discussion took place over resolutions regarding the subject of universal suffrage as connected with the constitutional convention. Charles Spencer, of New York, offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this State Committee of the Union Republican party of the State of New York recognize the right of every citizen to equality before the law, and congratulate the country upon the action of the Congress of the United States in the recognition of the situation and position of the colored man as a citizen of the United States.

Resolved, That we earnestly and respectfully request the members of the State Constitutional Convention to reconsider this action, and relieve the colored man from the burden of a vote which is an original, inherent, and inalienable right, which cannot be deprived without wrong and injustice.

Resolved, That we earnestly and respectfully request the members of the State Constitutional Convention to reconsider this action, and relieve the colored man from the burden of a vote which is an original, inherent, and inalienable right, which cannot be deprived without wrong and injustice.

THE DEATH OF DR. LIVINGSTONE.

WASHINGTON, March 21, 1867.—The following is an account of the death of Dr. Livingstone, as furnished by the State Department:—CONSULATE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, ISLAND OF ZANZIBAR, December 9, 1866.—Sir:—It becomes my painful duty to report the death of Dr. David Livingstone, the celebrated African explorer, who died on the 26th of March last for the exploration of the river Rovuma, and that region between the great lakes of Central Africa, and the Indian Ocean.

Dr. Livingstone was a Scotchman, and was born in the parish of Kilmany, Scotland, on the 16th of January, 1793. He was educated at Glasgow, and was a member of the Livingstone-Zambesi expedition, for the following particulars of which see the columns of this paper. He was accompanied by Mr. H. M. Moffat, and was the first to cross the African continent within the tropical zone; and these hopes have been wrecked by his untimely death.

FROM WASHINGTON THIS AFTERNOON.

(SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TELEGRAPH.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.

The New Order of Things in the South. The impression gains ground here that the example of General Hampton and others in Columbia, with regard to the freedmen, will be very generally followed in the Southern States, and that much good will grow out of this policy to both races. The next address of the kind is expected from Governor Wise, of Virginia, in Richmond. The hope is expressed that the officers commanding the military districts will bear in mind the injunctions of Washington to General Morgan under circumstances somewhat analogous, viz:—"Constantly and strongly to impress upon the army that they are mere agents of civil power; that out of camp they have no more authority than other citizens."

General Lee in Favor of the Proposed Virginia Constitutional Convention. From Richmond I learn to-night that a valley paper states, on the best authority, that General Robert E. Lee is heartily in favor of a convention. He thinks the people of Virginia should make every effort to avert their ruin; that it is idle to talk of resistance or inactivity. He acknowledges that the bill is a bitter one, but says he can suffer nothing more than Appomattox. Commenting on this, a Richmond paper says:—"Who will now say that Virginia will degrade and dishonor herself by acting under the Sherman law? General Lee can now be placed among the advocates of reconstruction."

A NEW SENSATION.

Outrages of the "Molly Maguires" in Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, March 22.—Private advices from Schuylkill county, Pa., represent that the coal miners there are committing the most serious outrages. The ruffians are mainly Irishmen, and known as the "Molly Maguires," are banded together in a secret organization for the purpose of controlling the mines, and resort to murder and robbery. It is impossible to punish them, as, when arrested and tried, the juries are packed with confederates, and they escape. On Friday last, Mr. Littlehales, a superintendent, was murdered, with the hope of securing some money which he was supposed to have; but he had very little at the time. Threats are made against all the superintendents, and all live-momentarily in fear of violence. Governor Geary has been applied to for protection.

On Friday last, Mr. Littlehales, a superintendent, was murdered, with the hope of securing some money which he was supposed to have; but he had very little at the time. Threats are made against all the superintendents, and all live-momentarily in fear of violence. Governor Geary has been applied to for protection.

Private advices from the Pennsylvania coal regions tell of numerous outrages which are committed by the ruffians in Schuylkill county. The ruffians, who are mainly Irish, are known throughout the region as the "Molly Maguires." They are banded together in a secret organization for the purpose of controlling the mines, and resort to murder and robbery. It is impossible to punish them, as, when arrested and tried, the juries are packed with confederates, and they escape.
